

2024

Books from Fathom Publishing

Fathom Publishing Company launched in 1981 publishing Alaskan authors. Today Fathom publishes a broad range of fiction and non-fiction, including memoirs, biographies, and children's fiction and activity books.

Fathom pays personal attention to our authors' works and to offering booksellers a unique range of Alaskan and North Country books.

Children's Books

A Home for Henry

Janice J. Schofield

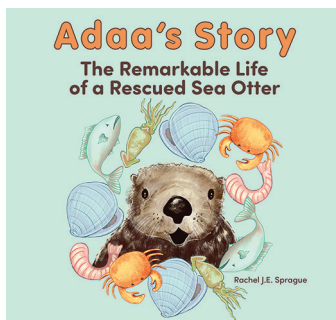

A read-aloud bedtime tale about a young mouse who heads out into the world to find his own home.

This storybook is filled with catchy rhymes, delightful pictures, and the game of 'finding the crow' who appears on every page. Enjoy reading it with your children, and join Henry as he sets out to find a home, encountering many challenges along the way. How he handles his problems is a life lesson for kids of all ages.

Henry's tale is dedicated to the children of the world in hopes that they too learn a power song to move through challenging times of life.

A Home for Henry

Reading age: 3-6 years
8.27" x 8.27", 34 pages
978-1981258260
Paperback $9.99

Adaa's Story: The Remarkable Life of a Rescued Sea Otter

Rachel JE Sprague

A beautifully illustrated story of kindness.

Adaa began life as an orphaned sea otter in remote Alaska. Through a chain of kindness, he was rescued then cared for by the Alaska SeaLife Center and the Oregon Coast Aquarium, before relocating permanently to the Seattle Aquarium.

Adaa's Story follows his journey as he grows up, enjoys life with friends, and then starts a new chain of kindness.

Adaa's Story

Reading age: 3-9 years
Grade level: K-6
8" x 8", 32 pages
978-1-954896-33-8
Paperback $12.99

Adventures of Papa and Peanut

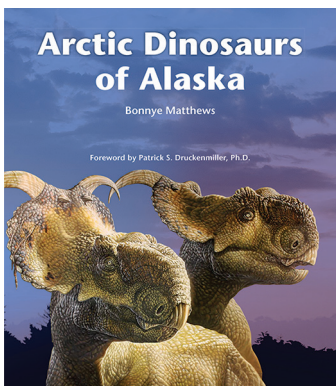

Danté Shalia Elkins

A sweet story about the special bond between a little girl and her loving grandfather in Utqiagvik, Alaska.

When a little girl named Peanut wants a day with her Papa, all she has to do is pick up the phone. Papa can't possibly say no to such an invitation, and so their day of fun begins. Snowball fights, hot cocoa, crafts, and warm hugs make a day with Papa a very special day. Inspired by the author's own daughter and her Papa, this rhyming story with delightful illustrations brings their relationship to life.

Adventures of Papa and Peanut

Reading age: 3-9 years
Grade level: K-6
8" x 8", 32 pages
978-1-954896-33-8
Paperback $7.99

Arctic Dinosaurs of Alaska

Bonnye Matthews

A journey back in time when dinosaurs left footprints in the Arctic snow.

Seventy million years ago, dinosaurs lived on the North Slope of Alaska. This story follows Pakky, a young Pachyrhinosaurus, as she experiences her first sunless winter and learns about ice and snow. She discovers the wonders of the yearly cycle of life and migration, and learns that even though the time of light gives way to the time of dark, light always comes back again.

Illustrations are designed for coloring. Includes facts and educational word games.

Arctic Dinosaurs of Alaska

Reading age: 7-12 years
Grade level: 4-6
6.14" x 9.21", 122 pages
978-1-954896-00-0
Paperback $16.99

Awards: Nautilus Book Awards 2023 Silver Award, Middle Grade Fiction, Ages 8-12 and Royal Dragonfly 2022 Honorable Mention, Middle Grade Fiction.

Children's Books

Growing up in Alaska: A Baby Arctic Tern

Constance Taylor

A photographic story of a baby Arctic Tern as he hatches and learns to fly.

A baby tern has so much to learn: how to eat, how to swim, and how to care for his feathers. But, his greatest wish is to fly. After many days of practice, trial and failure, he gains the joy of flying with his parents.

A delightful and educational story. Free downloadable teacher's guide and educational activities available.

Awards: 2019 Eric Hoffer Awards, 2019 Nautilus Book Silver Award, 2019 Feathered Quill Bronze Award, 2019 Reader Views Literary Awards, 2019 Independent Publisher Book Silver Award.

Growing up in Alaska

Reading age: 1-12 years

Grade level: K-6

8" x 8", 36 pages

978-1888215762

Paperback $10.99

Luna's Star

Sheamus Adair

Soar with one ambitious little owlet as she reaches for the stars.

When a little owlet named Luna is told that she can be anything she wants to be and only the sky is the limit, she takes it to heart. In this sweet story about dreaming big, Luna flies higher than any other owl. With determination and diligence, Luna pursues her dream and learns an important lesson about what matters most.

Awards: 2021 Pinnacle Book Achievement Award for Best Books in Children's Interest, 2021 Purple Dragonfly Book Award Contest for best illustrations, and the 2021 NYC Big Book Award Distinguished Favorites Childrens-Fiction.

Luna's Star

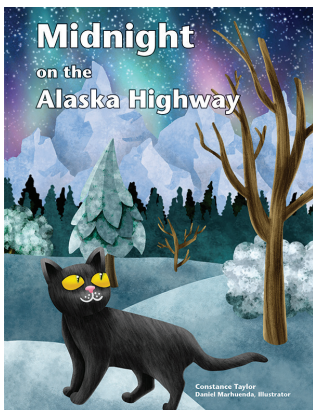

Reading age: 3-9 years

Grade level: K-6

8.5" x 8.5", 32 pages

978-1888215410

Paperback $10.99

Midnight on the Alaska Highway

Constance Taylor

A cat's remarkable journey to Alaska based on true events.

When a black cat named Midnight takes a trip on the Alaska Highway, she experiences lots of new things and finds plenty of adventure along the way.

From snowy days and northern lights to being lost in the wilderness along the highway, Midnight experiences the remote north before returning to her California home with an unusual story to tell about her travel adventures in this full-color graphic story for children.

Midnight on the Alaska Highway

Reading age: children and up

6" x 9", 30 pages

978-1-954896-10-9

Paperback $9.99

Sik-Sik's Summer—An Arctic Ground Squirrel Tale

Constance Taylor & Wendy Kenny

A photographic story of an Arctic Ground Squirrel and her summer in Alaska.

Sik-Sik woke up from her long hibernation as the snow melted on the alpine tundra. Spring turned to summer; the world turned green, and the mountains bloomed. There were only a few months of summer. Sik-Sik would be busy. Children and adults alike will enjoy the delightful photographs and story of Sik-Sik. The text, photographs, and illustrations create a fun and educational story.

Downloadable teacher's guide and educational activities available.

Awards: Next Generation Indie Book Awards 2023 Finalist Children's Ed. Picture Book.

Sik-Sik's Summer

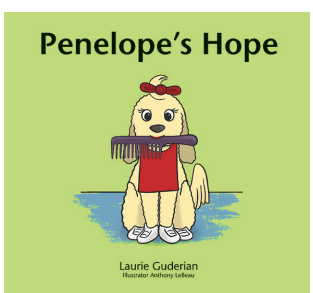

Reading age: 1-12 years

Grade level: K-6

8" x 8", 36 pages

978-1888215762

Paperback $10.99

Penelope's Hope

Laurie Guderian

A sweet story about a little dog with a big dream.

Penelope was no ordinary dog. She loved to play at the park and fetch the mail, but she also learned to talk and read. She had big hopes for her future. Ever since she was a pup, she wanted to be a Groomer – a People Groomer. Penelope's Hope is about never giving up on your dreams, even if they turn out a little different than what you first imagined.

Penelope's Hope

Reading age: 3-6 years

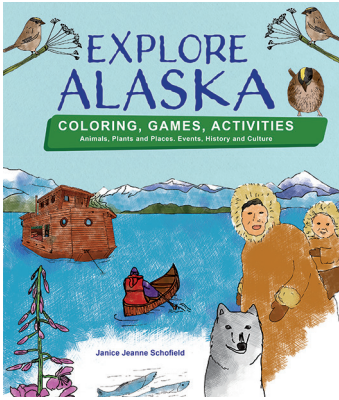

Grade level: K- 4

8" x 8", 20 pages

978-1888215380

Paperback $5.99

Children's Activity Books

Explore Alaska: Coloring, Games, Activities

Janice J. Schofield

A fun-filled, fact-packed Alaskan activity book for the family.

Discover Alaska's plants, places, animals, history, and cultures. Join Sourdough and Grandmother for insights into animal biology and Native life. The rhyming text helps your little ones with language learning, and the prose deepens knowledge of Alaska's diversity. Find must-see places to visit: from bird sanctuaries and local festivals to Alaskan mud volcanoes. Tourists, Alaskans, kids, and elders will all find hours of entertainment with one hundred pages of coloring, drawing exercises, games, fun facts, and quizzes. It's guaranteed to keep kids busy and learning.

Explore Alaska

Reading age: children and up
8.5" x 11", 106 pages
978-0473540746
Paperback $14.95

Coloring Cordova

Michael C. Anderson

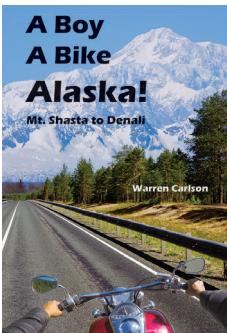

A coloring book/guide to Cordova activities and surroundings.

Hand-drawn sketches by Cordova artist Mike Anderson feature the town and Prince William Sound's beautiful scenery. His art highlights the many activities that make up life in Cordova, Alaska. Descriptions and interesting facts make the book both fun and educational. A Copper River Delta map is included with wildlife symbols and selected page locations. Coloring Alaska's Cordova appeals to young and old and is ideal for both tourists and Alaskans.

Coloring Alaska's Cordova

Reading age: children and up
11" x 8.5", 36 pages
978-1954896055
Paperback $16.99

Alaska Young Adult Books

A Boy A Bike Alaska!

Warren Carlson

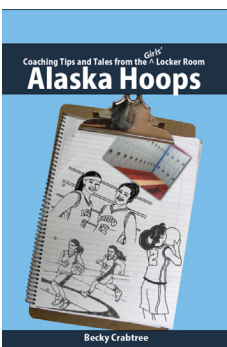

This coming-of-age novel is the story of a young man's motorcycle trip to Alaska.

The day after his high school graduation in Mt. Shasta City, California, Jack Iverson set off for Alaska and a job at a fishing lodge near Denali National Park. His ride was a Honda Shadow, and his journey was 3,242 miles through rugged and beautiful terrain.

As he travels the Alaska Highway and works in Alaska, Jack's encounters with people, nature, life, and death are all part of his greater journey from youth to adulthood.

A Boy A Bike Alaska!

Reading age: Teen and up
6" x 9", 110 pages
978-1954896079
Paperback $10.99

Alaska Hoops—Coaching Tips and Tales from the Girls' Locker Room

Becky Crabtree

Coach Becky's fond memories of coaching girls' basketball in rural Alaska.

Lighthearted collection of true stories from her two decades of coaching basketball on the North Slope of Alaska, Coach Becky takes you inside the mind of a high school basketball coach in a place where basketball is more than just a game. Humor and unguarded respect for the culture, her stories take the reader on an only-in-Alaska field trip.

Alaska Hoops

Reading age: Teen and up
6.14" x 9.21", 98 pages
978-1888215113
Paperback $11.95

Review: Crabtree has done an outstanding job of capturing the moment and sharing it through her personal basketball experiences in rural Alaskan villages.

— Aimee Romeijn-Boen, Sheridan College Junior College All-American.

Murphy and the Black Skull

Bradford D. Smith

A Juneau Alaska mystery is discovered when Murphy and his dog Hogan see a pirate ship in Gastineau Channel outside their home.

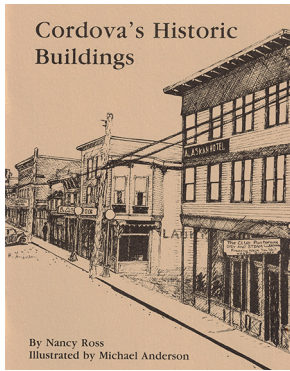

Murphy and his teenage cousin search for clues that will help them solve the mystery. Their search leads them to the Juneau City Museum and then headlong into peril as they struggle to understand Murphys own family mystery along with the mystery of the pirate ship called Black Skull.

The danger increases as they are forced to dodge a violent storm and a desperate gang of pirates.

Murphy and the Black Skull

Coming Spring 2024

Alaska/North Country Non-Fiction

Cordova's Historic Buildings

Nancy Ross

History and illustrations of the oldest buildings in Cordova, Alaska.

In 1900, when one of the world's richest copper lodes was discovered in Alaska's Wrangell Mountains, Eyak was a fishing village of about 200 people between Odiak Slough and Eyak Lake. The flurry of activity set off by that discovery changed the little community forever. The construction of the railroad to the copper mines drew hundreds of men to the little community of Eyak and it was soon bursting at the seams. A new townsite, named Cordova, after the bay it overlooked, was laid out. The first lots were sold at auction in May 1908. The town thrived and its promoters unabashedly predicted it would become "the 'Frisco of the North."

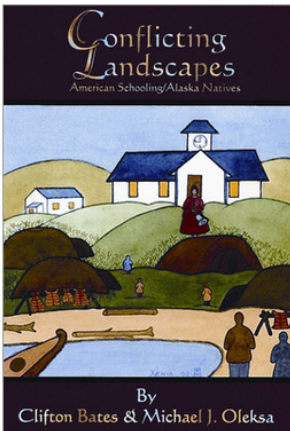

Cordova's Historic Buildings

Reading age: Teen and up

5.75" x 8.75", 27 pages

978-0960735815

Paperback $3.99

Conflicting Landscapes, American Schooling/Alaska Natives

Clifton Bates and Michael J. Oleksa

A history of Native education including a description of Native schools and specific recommendations to improve Alaska Native education today.

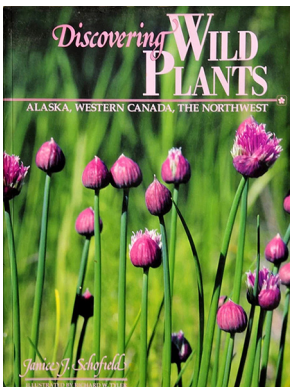

There is ample evidence demonstrating concerns about how the American school system interacts with Alaska Natives. Suicides, addictive/risky behaviors, incarceration, school dropouts, and poor academic performance are all too frequent occurrences in the indigenous population. This book avoids negative statistics. Historical photographs and anecdotes help illustrate the text content. The authors have decades of experience in Alaska Native education. It is researched and experienced-based. It has been regarded as the definitive resource for educators working with Alaska Native students.

Conflicting Landscapes

6" x 9", 264 pages

978-1578333967

Paperback $19.95

Discovering Wild Plants: Alaska, Western Canada, The Northwest

Janice J. Schofield

Over 190 exquisite color photos of northern wild plants.

Whether in search of an herbal remedy, a critical wilderness medicine, green delicacies for a wild salad, plants to make into lotions and balms, or a natural dye mordant, Discovering Wild Plants is a definitive guide to exploring the region's rich flora.

- 147 plants: wildflowers, trees, shrubs, berries, lichens, mosses, algae, and fungi, organized by habitat
- Detailed black-and-white drawings of each plant by Alaskan artist Richard W. Tyler
- Recipes for delicious relishes, syrups, salads, soups, stir-fries, casseroles, and more
- Instructions for making massage oils, herbal baths, tinctures, soothing herbal teas, and plant dyes
- Traditional Native American and European uses of wild plants

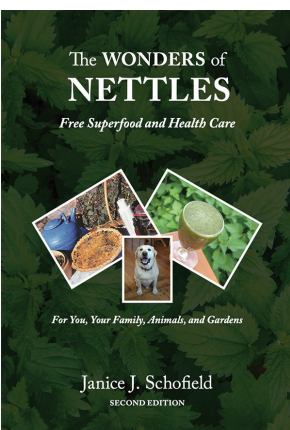

Discovering Wild Plants

Reading age: Teen and up

8.75" x 11.25", 353 pages

978-0882403694

Paperback $39.95

The Wonders of Nettles

Janice J. Schofield

Stinging nettles are abundant in Alaska and are a superfood and healthcare aid for you, your pets, and your gardens.

Stinging nettles are found on all continents (except Antarctica). These wild plants are despised by many but revered by the wise. Nettles contain every nutrient from A to Zinc. The Wonders of Nettles is the product of forty years of using nettles and sharing them with others. Nettle (nettle pesto) and nettle tea are two of Janice's foundational health practices. Learn:

- identify nettles and gather them safely for use in the kitchen for delicious, nutritious creations
- use nettles to boost your immune system, enhance health and beauty
- use nettles for feeding dogs, cats, birds, and livestock
- use nettles for garden health, native butterfly survival, and more

The Wonders of Nettles

Reading age: Teen and up

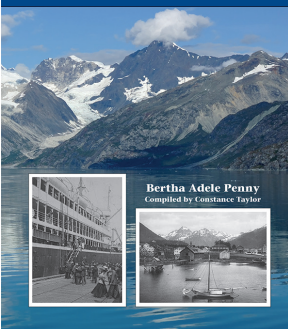

5" x 8", 219 pages

978-0473575533

Paperback $22.95

Alaska/North Country Biography and Memoir

ALASKA CRUISE 1909

Alaska Cruise 1909

Bertha Adele Penny and Constance Taylor, Compiler

A captivating journey to Alaska aboard the Steamer Northwestern in 1909.

This story, re-discovered after 100 years, was written by Bertha Adele Penny as she shared her personal experience of a cruise taken by newspaper editors at the end of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition of 1909. It is a delightful piece of Americana, told in the voice of turn-of-the-century America, full of humor and poignant beauty.

The story comes to life with vintage photographs, newspaper clippings, and an appendix of articles written by others who shared the grand adventure to Alaska's cities, glaciers, mines, and farmlands.

Awards: 2021 Next Generation Indie Book Award Finalist Memoirs Historical/Legacy, 2021 Kops-Fetherling Book Awards Gold.

Alaska Cruise 1909

Reading age: Teen and up
6.69" x 9.61", 84 pages
978-1888215793
Paperback $10.00

Atlin

Where Everyone Knows
Your Dog's Name

Bradford D. Smith

Atlin Where Everyone Knows Your Dog's Name

Bradford D. Smith

The story of a boy and the Northern wilderness town that raised him.

With natural story-telling ease and wit, Brad tells his story of growing up in an isolated, northern gold rush town, surrounded by his family's many huskies and malamutes. Hunting, fishing, trapping, and mushing were all part of everyday life in Atlin, BC. His Atlin childhood was an innocent time when imagination was king, and the wilderness was a playground. From exploring and swimming in the summer to hooky bobbing, skating, and curling in winter, Brad and his buddies knew how to have lots of fun.

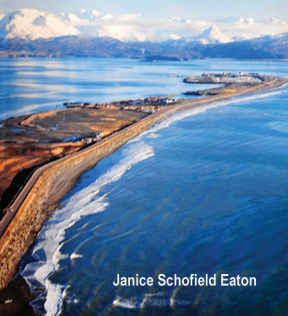

Review: ... more than just a story about a boy's life in the Canadian north, it is a glimpse into the life and history of a caring community who worked together to accomplish unimaginable feats. It honors the hardworking, fun-loving men and women of Atlin, B.C.

– Terry Milos, author of North of Familiar.

Atlin Where Everyone Knows Your Dog's Name

Reading age: Teen and up
6.14" x 9.21", 382 pages
978-1888215816
Paperback $24.95

Beyond Road's End LIVING FREE IN ALASKA

Beyond Road's End: Living Free in Alaska

Janice J. Schofield

Together they fell in love with the heartbreakingly beautiful landscape of the Far North.

Beyond Road's End offers a welcome escape from crowded cubicles and the fumes of freeway gridlock as readers tag along with Janice and Ed on their journey to build a new life on their own terms in rural Alaska. This adventurous couple came to Alaska from New Hampshire with dreams of living richly in the wilderness on ten dollars a day. Ed brought his experience as a builder, and Janice brought her New England work ethic.

Part love story, part adventure, and part natural history, this book is a touching memoir of carving out a life in the wilderness, building a log house, and living life to its fullest.

Beyond Road's End

Reading age: Teen and up
6" x 9", 391 pages
978-0882407548
Paperback $18.95

Life on the Edge of the Arctic Ocean

Teena Helmericks

Life on the Edge of the Arctic Ocean

Teena Helmericks

Living on an island on the edge of the Arctic Ocean for over sixty years.

The memoir of a unique family who made their home in the far North of Alaska. Teena Helmericks is a frontier woman who has lived and thrived along the edge of the Arctic coast of Alaska on an island in the Colville River Delta where the river meets the Arctic Ocean. She lived with her family on a three-generation homesite as her life progressed from meager means and extreme remoteness to modern homes and many neighbors. An amazing saga of a frontier-homestead lifestyle of hard work, adventures, struggles, and joys in the harsh but beautiful wilderness of Alaska's northern coast.

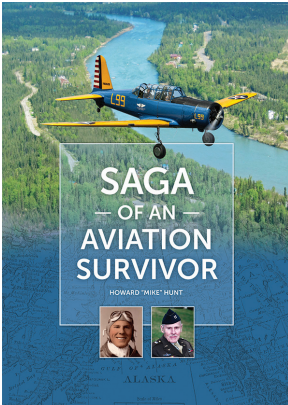

Review: "... will be a favorite for readers who love stories about unconventional people and frontier living. The 'round-the-kitchen-table-style' retelling of her life story allows Helmericks to really connect with readers, creating a connection through the page and endearing herself and her family quickly. A fantastic choice for your next read!"

Reader Views

Life on the Edge of the Arctic Ocean

Reading age: Teen and up
6.14" x 9.21", 290 pages
978-1954896246
Paperback $19.99

Alaska/North Country Biography and Memoir

Saga of an Aviation Survivor

Howard John "Mike" Hunt

The World War II pilot who became an Alaskan aviation pioneer.

Hunt was a dynamic "can do" man who grew up in the cornfields of Iowa. His remarkable life was full of adventures from his wartime experiences, to Alaska bush pilot escapades, to homesteading and gold mining. His love of flying took him around the world as an Army Air Corps pilot, flying every kind of plane in the army's inventory, including the Memphis Belle B-17. After the war ended, Hunt and a small group of World War II veterans obtained surplus military airplanes and started a non-scheduled airline in Alaska named Air Transport Associates.

Award: Next Generation Indie Book Awards 2023 Finalist.

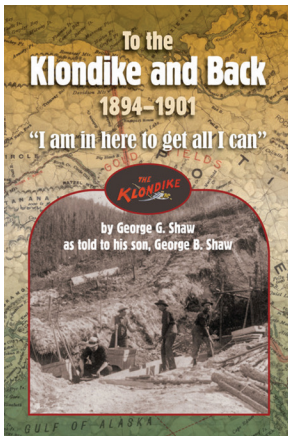

Saga of an Aviation Survivor

Reading age: Teen and up

7" x 10" 226 pages

978-1888215847

Paperback $18.95

To the Klondike and Back

George G. Shaw

Prospector Shaw said: "There is money in it all right and I am in here to get all I can."

Adventurous 22-year-old George G. Shaw was determined to strike it rich in the Klondike gold fields. He headed west from Vermont in 1894 to Seattle, then on to Alaska and the Yukon Territory. Shaw braved the perils of wilderness travel – an unforgiving mountain pass, treacherous whitewater – finally arriving in raucous Dawson City. In the Klondike, mining for gold challenged Shaw's confidence and resourcefulness.

Shaw returned home after his seven-year sojourn with some money in his pockets and memories to last a lifetime. Over the years, he savored and shared the vivid recollections of his personal experiences as a gold miner and traveler with his son, who wrote them down and compiled them into a manuscript.

To the Klondike and Back

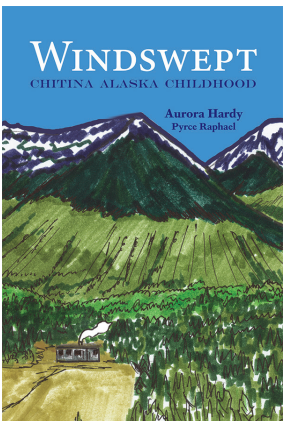

Images from the Past

Reading age: Teen and up

5.9" x 9", 194 pages

978-1884592652

Paperback $17.95

Windswept: Chitina Alaska Childhood

Aurora Hardy, Illustrated by Pyrc Raphael

A whimsical compilation of stories of Aurora's remote Alaska childhood

Aurora's childhood home on the bluffs of the Copper River below the gaze of the Chugach Mountains was lovingly called Windswept. Her family built a log cabin on the bluffs and lived a wilderness life, salmon fishing, berry picking, hauling firewood, and most of all, enjoying the beauty of the land and its wild animals.

Aurora is dedicated to inspiring the love of reading in others and bringing her favorite quote back to life: "Dreams do come true!" Aurora and Pyrc are at work on Windswept Children's Companion, an illustrated children's follow-along book contains stories of the animals – bears, moose and a mouse – that lived at Windswept along with Aurora. It includes educational information about Alaska animals.

Windswept

Aurora Hardy

Reading age: Teen and up

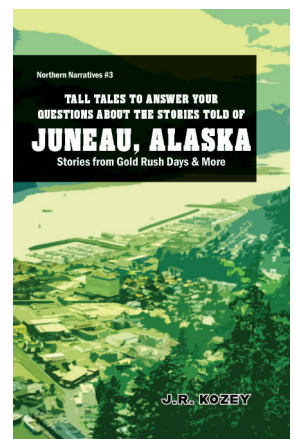

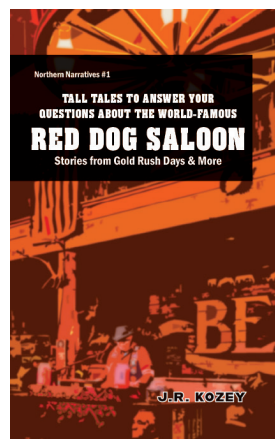

Coming Spring 2024

Frontier Folklore

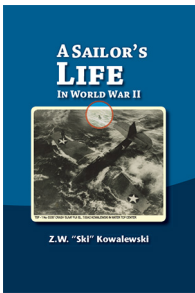

Spring 2024 Release

Northern Narratives Series

Set against the breathtaking backdrop of Juneau, this collection weaves a tapestry of captivating narratives that delve into the rich history of Juneau and the iconic establishment, The Red Dog Saloon. From its rowdy origins during the gold rush era to its evolution into a renowned destination for the millions of cruise ships passing through every summer, each story encapsulates a different facet of Juneau's journey through time. Along the way, you'll meet characters like Black Mary, one of Juneau's first madams; Phineas Poon, an obnoxious entertainer whose ashes reside at the Red Dog; the Birdman of Alcatraz and even Wyatt Earp himself.

Outside Alaska Biography, Memoir, Fiction

A Sailor's Life in World War II

Z.W. "Ski" Kowalewski

A unique view of what it was like to be a pilot during and after World War II.

"This is the story of a true American hero, one of a small group of Americans from every part of the country who joined Torpedo Squadron Eight in the early days of the Second World War. Through a combination of courage, sacrifice, and fate, these men helped to change the course of history at the momentous battles of Midway and Guadalcanal. Their story is truly one for the ages." From the foreword by Robert Mrazek, author of A Dawn Like Thunder: The True Story of Torpedo Squadron Eight.

A Sailor's Life in WW II

Reading age: Teen and up

7" x 10", 78 pages

978-1888215687

Paperback $10.99

Living in Different Cultures

Tamar Frankel

A memoir-like collection of keen observations of global culture.

Vignettes by the distinguished Israeli-born legal scholar, written from decades of clear-eyed observing, guide those from different cultures on how to respect each other and live in harmony. Born in pre-Israel Palestine on July 4, 1925, she served in the Haganah underground defense force, graduated from law school, served in the Israeli Air Force, and helped the new nation of Israel draft its first set of civil laws before she moved to the United States. She became the first woman on the Boston University Law School faculty in 1958 and taught there for 50 years. She helped devise the Internet's legal structure and advised the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

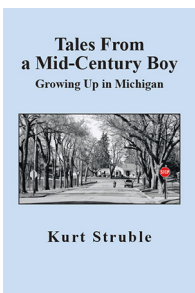

Living in Different Cultures

Reading age: Teen and up

6" x 9", 216 pages

978-1888215496

Paperback $15.00

Tales from a Mid-Century Boy: Growing Up in Michigan

Kurt Struble

Adventures of a boy growing up in Mid-Century America.

Short stories, poems, and narratives about a ten- to sixteen-year-old boy growing up in Durand, Michigan, a small mid-western town during the 1950s. Summers were spent at the family cottage on Tawas Point in "Up North" Michigan at a time when kids were free to roam far and wide on bicycles seeking "pick up" games of sports, fishing, and exploring the world of nature all day. Every day. With one requirement: Be home in time for dinner.

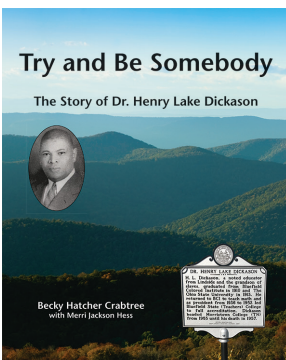

Tales From a Mid-Century Boy

Reading age: Teen and up

5.06" x 7.81", 124 pages

978-1954896116

Paperback $15.00

Try and Be Somebody

Becky Hatcher Crabtree

The inspiring story of Dr. Henry Lake Dickason, the first president of Bluefield State College and early leader in Black education.

Henry Dickason, the grandson of slaves, was born in West Virginia two decades after the Civil War. He learned early on about the oppression of segregation, especially the limited opportunity for black children to get an education. Through hard work, commitment to education, and the support of his family, he became a driving force in racial pride and ensuring that education was available to all who desired to learn.

Try and Be Somebody

Reading age: Teen and up

7.5" x 9.25", 84 pages

978-1888215373 Paperback

$14.95

Award: 2019 Next Generation Indie Book Award Finalist African American.

FREE Printable Activities

Visit our website at fathompublishing.com/activities for a large selection of activity worksheets for all ages to enjoy. We offer activities to go with our children's books as well as a growing collection of holiday activities. Our gift to our readers, they are FREE to download and print.

Fiction with an Alaskan side

Stella & Jonas Series

Becky Hatcher Crabtree

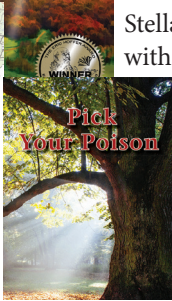

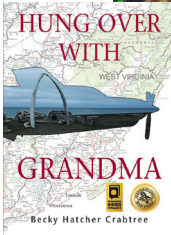

Drunk on Peace and Quiet, first book in the Stella and Jonas series, introduces Stella living on her mountain in West Virginia and her developing love story with Jonas, an Alaskan Inupiaq man.

Hungover with Grandma brings the story to Barrow (now Utqiagvik), Alaska, for a honeymoon trip to meet Jonas' family.

Pick Your Poison concludes the series in West Virginia where the couple now lives with Jonas' mother.

Awards: Drunk on Peace and Quiet, 2016 Eric Hoffer Award Honorable Mention, Hung Over with Grandma, 2017 Feathered Quill Book Awards Best Woman's Fiction Gold First Place, Pick Your Poison, 2019 Feathered Quill Book Awards Romance Bronze Third Place.

Stella & Jonas Series
Reading age: Teen and up
5.5" x 8.5",
200+ pages each
Paperback $11.99 each

Fiction

Speaking from the Heart

It Won't Stay Light Forever

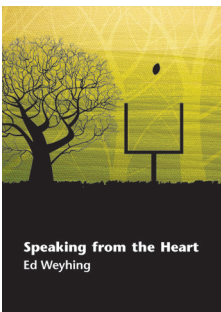

Ed Weyhing

Solid entertainment with luminous moments of heartache, humor, fear and hope.

Speaking from the Heart - Handsome and quiet, Mbasu Kilu walks with difficulty. He was born with two club feet and there are many things he can't do well, but he can kick a football like a champion.

It Won't Stay Light Forever - A wealthy old gentleman who cannot speak and a cabbie who drives him around every week share an experience that leaves the shocked cabbie with no explanation. A little boy's innocent gesture sets in motion a Sunday morning of terror. A cleaning lady's childhood artwork inspires her at a critical moment. A humiliated carpenter secretly nails his customer's front door shut. A mentally-disabled teenager tries to help a frightened child. A mysterious woman moves into a neighborhood and turns it upside-down.

Ed Weyhing's Stories
Reading age: Teen and up
6.140" x 9.210"
Paperback 170+ page
Speaking $8.99
Light Forever $9.99

Whatever Happened to Hansel and Gretel?

Have you ever wondered?

Twenty-four contemporary writers imagine the lives of Hansel and Gretel ten years after the children escaped from the witch's candy house in the woods. Dive into these surprising, entertaining, and hilarious sequels to the classic Brothers Grimm fairy tale!

- Where did Jacob Grimm first hear the story of Hansel and Gretel?
- How did Hansel and Gretel feel about their infamous escape from the candy cottage?
- Did Hansel or Gretel face charges for the witch's demise?
- What if Hansel and Gretel appeared as guests on a TV talk show?

Whatever Happened . . .
Reading age: Teen and up
978-1954896277
162 pages
Paperback $12.99 each

Ordering Information

Ordering from Fathom

Discount Schedule: 5-11 books 35%, 12 or over 45%.

You may mix books to reach the total for discount.

Terms: Net 60 days

Delivery schedule: Please allow 3-4 weeks

Shipping: USPS Media Mail

To order, please complete the online order form or download a printable form at fathompublishing.com/orders

Or email us at connie@fathompublishing.com with your contact information, titles, and quantities.

We will send you a completed order form and invoice.

Prices and specifications are subject to change without notice.

Ordering from Ingram Distribution

Orders can also be placed through your Ingram account.

Returns are only accepted when shipped direct to Fathom following the terms below.

Return Policy

Books may be returned to Fathom Publishing for credit no sooner than three months and no later than one year after the invoice date.

Books must be in clean, saleable condition. Credit on account will be issued for accepted returns. No cash refunds.

Fathom Publishing

PO Box 200448 Anchorage, AK 99520-0448
907-272-3305 | connie@fathompublishing.com